American Heroes Joshua Chamberlain and The American Civil War

Joshua Chamberlain was an American college professor from the State of Maine who volunteered during the American Civil War to join the Union Army. He became a highly respected and decorated Union officer reaching the rank of brigadier general.

He was prevented from doing so by the administration at Bowdoin who stated he was too valuable to lose. Chamberlain was best known for his gallantry at the Battle of Gettysburg for which he was awarded the Medal of Honor. He was a citizen soldier during the Civil War and one of my heroes I have to paintings of him in my office. He was an example of leadership used by the US Army in a leadership manual.
